

Short Answer Questions

How to SAQ

Details

SAQs comprise 20% of the Exam score

SAQs can be taken from any unit

4 questions total

50 minutes to answer (12.5 minutes per question).

Why SAQ?

The SAQs allow students to use knowledge taught in their unique courses to answer broad questions derived from the Key Concepts, which also assess the students' use of various historical thinking skills.

“Students may employ a wide variety of evidence drawn from the particular content of their AP World History course and materials.” (College Board)

- Provides teachers more flexibility to teach their own content, and for the use of different textbooks across the country.
- Increased emphasis on development of historical thinking skills.
- Puts WHAP in line with AP US History and AP European History

What is an SAQ?

The short answer question requires students to accurately answer a question briefly, specifically, and accurately. Generally speaking students are able to answer questions with fewer sentences.

- Does not require a thesis statement
- Does require complete sentences
- All 3 parts of the question must be answered.
- Usually broken into 3 parts a, b, and c, but sometimes part a or part b will have 2 questions within—it always asks 3 questions—so read carefully.
- Limited space (a one page box with 23 lines) in which to write their answers. Anything written outside of the box will not be scored.
- Students give enough information to answer the question, but not write an essay.
- At least 2 of the 4 questions will include a stimulus of some kind: photo, political resources, chart, graph, or one or more documents (primary or secondary).

Tips

- Read question carefully. Annotate the question and rephrase the question as your topic sentence (remember no thesis sentence necessary).
- Complete Sentences
- Do NOT bullet (bullets=zero points).
- Directly answer the question. Use the language of the prompt! (always)
- Pay close attention to what the question is asking of you: look for key action words such as describe, analyze, identify, explain, etc.
- Answer everything the question asks of you: you may have to do more than one thing such as “identify and explain.”
- Look for plurals—asking you do more than one thing: reason vs. reasons; cause vs. causes. If it's plural you must do 2! You may not see many of these in SAQs, but be on the lookout.
- Use active verbs!
- Don't write outside the space—you should have enough space—don't panic!
- Experts differ on whether you should label your answers. I recommend you label a), b), and c) for ease of understanding. Readers will read the question in such a way as to give you credit where credit is due, and not to nitpick where you provide your answer (although it must be IN THE BOX).

ACE the Question

A-Answer the question (this is the assertion or claim).

C—Cite specific factual evidence

E—Explain how the evidence proves the assertion!
